Parent Information

For the week of 12.4.23 - 12.8.23

Jaguar Families,

14 days left in the quarter. Please make sure your children are arriving to school on time. 1st period starts at 9:09AM when they should be in their classrooms. As the weather is getting colder, we are having students showing up later and later. Please plan so they can arrive on time. Students that show up late to their 1st period are getting behind because teachers start teaching the minute the bell rings at 9:15AM.

Please continue to check Student Vue or Parent Vue as teachers are inputting grades, updating with assignments, and grading finished projects. Students should be looking at their Student Vue daily and showing guardians weekly which practices good habits.

This week and next week we are having district testing. Students need to bring their laptops, chargers, and have rested the night before. On the next page is the alternate schedules for testing days.
